WALTER PICKS MACK TO WIN

Washington Star Says Cubs Have No Chance.

PITCHING STRENGTH COUNTS

Johnson Says Mack Slingers Far Better.

He Believes That the Athletics Will Ought the Cubs and Win Almost All the Games—Strike-out Pitcher Credits Mack With More Brains Than Frank Chance.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—That "Conline" Mack's pitchers will be able to discount the attacking strength of the Cubs and that the Athletics' heavy hitters will get to the Chicago twirlers and tear the defense to pieces by slugging, is Walter Johnson's size-up of the coming World's series.

The Washington Star slamsman was emphatic in his opinion following his statement that he had never seen the Cubs play. "I don't need to see them," he said today. "The Athletics have a corps of flingers that the Cubs can't solve. If the Chance gang averages more than three runs a game, Jack Combs pitches against them, I will be surprised. They can't do much more with Bender and I believe Plank will do well."

"Chicago will probably average about two and a half runs a game against the Athletics and by sheer hitting Mack's boys ought to put over three or four runs. That's the way I figure it."

"Certainly, the Cubs have better catchers but what's that going to get them? The catchers are not going to pitch and the Athletics won't need to steal bases or run them recklessly if they can hit the ball. I don't figure Eddie Collins much better than any of the rest of the Athletics in this series because I don't believe any of them will try to steal bases. The Cubs can run rings around the Athletics as a team on the bases but I don't believe many of them will get on."

"Chicago has a better defensive team in all departments except pitching. The Athletics have the best of it in hitting and pitching and that's enough."

"The Athletics are easily the best team in the American league. They are also game. It's funny to read about them 'blowing' in the games with the Sox the last couple of days. They weren't half trying; they didn't need to. It's true they are mostly youngsters and play in flannels, but you notice the times they happen to flash are the times they happen to need to."

Johnson declared he considered "Conline" Mack far superior to Frank Chance when it comes to inside baseball knowledge. "Other things being equal, I believe Mack would outgeneral Chance," he said.

It Saved His Leg.

"All thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swenson, of Watertown, Wis. "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, and at last laid me up. Then Buckle's Eczema Salve cured it, sound and well. It kills itching, skin eruptions, eczema, salt rheum, boils, fever sores, burns, scalds, cuts and piles. 25c at Tschanen Bros."

The "Done Up" Shirt Waist.

Half the looks of a shirt waist depend on the way it is done up. If it is washed with cheap strong yellow soap, so that it gets streaked and stained instead of being cleaned and beautified, it is "done up" sure enough. The woman who values her personal appearance—and that means every woman—will see to it that her shirt waists are laundered with a soap that leaves them white and clean and sweet and new looking. Hewitt's Easy Task soap is the only one that will do this. Same price as others—five cents a cake and the greatest enemy to dirt and friend to fabrics ever made.

NO SUNDAY GAMES UNLESS C. MURPHY GETS INTO LINE

Chicago, Sept. 27.—"There will be no Sunday game during the world's series unless President Murphy, of the Cubs, agrees to wind up the schedule for his club before October 15," said President B. B. Johnson, of the American League today.

"I understand President Robinson, of the St. Louis Nationals has made a proposition to Mr. Murphy regarding the early completion of the remaining games booked between these clubs and from all reports the Chicago club alone is holding out."

"Interest in the major league races is bound to slump with the approach of cold weather," continued President Johnson, "and it is absolutely essential that the league season should close before the middle of October. Cold weather already has cut in on the sport, and in order to make this series for the highest honors in baseball the huge success, it should be the club owners should arrange their games so that the pennant-winning clubs might meet under favorable weather conditions."

HAL CHASE NOW LEADER OF NEW YORK A. L. TEAM

New York, Sept. 27.—George T. Stallings is no longer manager of the New York American League baseball team. Mr. Stallings this afternoon authorized the announcement that he was through as the team's manager. He had received a check in full for his services for the season, he said, and had severed his connection with the club.

Mr. Stallings did not care to say at this time just what the circumstances were which led to severing his relations with the club.

His announcement, however, confirmed anticipations which arose following the investigation by President Frank Farrell, in Cleveland, of Stallings' charges that Hal Chase, the team's first baseman, had not given the club his best services.

"Hal Chase will manage the New York Americans after this," said owner Farrell this afternoon. "I have found out that the charges against Chase are absolutely untrue." Mr. Farrell would not permit himself to be quoted further at this time, he said, however, that his announcement meant that Chase would manage the team for the remainder of the present season.

Asked if it also meant that Chase is to direct the fortunes of the Highlanders next season, Mr. Farrell replied that was a matter yet to be determined.

Mr. Farrell's announcement was made following a lengthy interview he had with Manager Stallings today, following his return from Cleveland.

ALL-STARS MAY PLAY ATHLETICS

Mack Plans to Keep Players From Too Much Idleness.

By United Press Wire. Chicago, Sept. 27.—An all-star team of American league players will play a series of five games with the Athletics, American league champions, during their week of enforced idleness before meeting the Cubs in the championship series, according to the latest dope from Manager Mack of the Washington club. The all-star team is to fulfill a double purpose—keep the Athletics from getting the dry rot and taking the edge off the championship bouts, to spite President Murphy.

Murphy refuses to let the schedule be moved up so as to bring the post-season series earlier and the all-star team has been picked as a counter-move. The games are planned to be played in at least two different cities. Here is the line-up of the all-star team as now planned:

Carrigan and Almshoff, catchers; Lanke, Johnson, Ford and Ray Collins, pitchers; Chase, first base; Gardner, second base; Bush, shortstop; Lord, third base; Milan, left field; Cobb, right field; Speaker, center field.

In a statement made public today President Murphy says he doesn't feel like asking President Robinson to make any financial concessions to hurry the post-season series along. He says it would not be fair to deprive the St. Louis club of revenue at the gates when he would not benefit financially in the championship series.

"We have one open date, Friday October 14, and would be perfectly willing to move up the last scheduled game so that the series could start that much sooner," says Murphy.

PHILLIES HAVE GREAT RECORD

Have Failed to Win Pennant Just 28 Years.

Twenty-eight consecutive failures to win a pennant. That is the record of the Phillies in the National League, and it stands as a world's record, since the Cincinnati and St. Louis clubs, the two others that have never won a National League championship, joined the organization years after the Phillies.

No club in any other league has equaled the record of the Phillies for consecutive failures, which is a performance that stands unique in the history of baseball. The season of 1910 while still unfinished, can safely be set down as the twenty-eighth unsuccessful effort, since there is no possible chance of the team managed by Charles Doolin overtaking any of the three teams that are now leading the race.

THEATERS

The Orpheum. Two capacity houses greeted the opening bill for the first half of the week at the Orpheum last night and standing room was at a premium. The feature opening was "The Ten Dark Knights" in one of the best comedies of the season. The Orpheum has a very interesting exhibition in the art of bag punching and his work will be blindfolded brought forth rounds of applause. Marie Hecklow, the dainty little dancer, was pleasing with her songs and dance of all nations. Mr. Harry Hauke proved himself to be master of his many instruments, rendering some very fine selections in ragtime. The Orpheumhouse concludes the performance with one of the Imps fine motion pictures.

Keith Stock company.

The favorite Keith Stock company, which made such a tremendous hit here last fair week, returned to the Grand opera-house for a week's engagement. The entire company proved stronger and better than before which is saying a great deal indeed. Standing room only was to be had and the large audience was delighted with their opening play, "It's Never Too Late to Mend." The play was most critically staged, beautifully costumed and acted in a superb manner and the popular players were greeted with raptures of applause.

First to deserve mention is Cato S. Keith, the clever comedian of the company, who kept the audience in constant spasms of laughter. He is truly a funny comedian of the highest order. Ross Warren in the role of Mrs. Dexter Harcourt, wore some exquisite gowns and deserves much credit for she acted her ungrateful part in a most finished manner. Ruth Amos, the engine of the company, and a very handsome young woman, was a pleasing Aubrey, acts cleverly and received an ovation on her appearance in the fourth act. Arnold C. Baldwin, as Duke Fairfax, the hero, not only did some excellent work, but looked and dressed the part.

Six high-class vaudeville acts entertained the audience during the intermissions. Luella Pullen, a little girl with a big voice; Ruth Amos, a very sweet singer; George Rowley, champion boy dancer; Frank Clayton, eccentric musical and monologue comedian; Chase Hammond, hoop roller and ballad singer; Cato Keith, talkist. For tonight they announce Litt and Dingwall's big city success, "The War of Wealth," powerful and sensational play dealing with frenzied finance. Has many thrilling scenes, among which is the "run on the bank," "explosion of the bank vault," "breaking of a real plate glass window." Spectacular and the ladies will again wear some elaborate gowns. Change of vaudeville between acts.

His Caliber of Courage.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 26.—It is not the courage hero commission, to judge of the caliber of courage possessed by one James Swenson, lion tamer on the state fair circuit, but for those married men who have known the clutch of terror as they let themselves in about milkman time and prepared to face their wives.

Swenson, it is related, faced well at the state fair and when it closed Saturday night, pledged his best with several other midway performers at a road house. The pledging is supposed to have been ample for the occasion but anyway when the fearless wonder of the age nightly braved death in the lion's den all for ten cents, peeked into his sleeping tent he saw a large oak tent stake on the cot beside his wife.

The lion tamer comprehended that omen and departed to his lion cage where he locked himself in and peacefully spent the night snoring on his lion's shoulder.

Mrs. Swenson found him there in the morning and merely kissed, "Goodnight."
